

Bignor Hill Circular Loop

10.5km – 6.5 miles Difficulty – Medium

Parking: Whiteways, Bury Hill, Houghton, Arundel, BN18 9FD

This walk starts by heading through beautiful woodland, before heading up towards Bignor Hill. Here there are views for miles and the walk then follows the South Downs Way before turning off and heading back down to the car park. There are no particularly steep sections, but there are a few gentle inclines and declines, and due to the ground being uneven in places, walking shoes are recommended. There are a few benches along the way, which make for perfect picnic spots.

Walk Directions

1. This walk start at the Whiteways car park, which is located just off the Whiteways Lodge Roundabout. Take the exit towards Pulborough and Bury, and it is the first turning on the left. This car park is free and there is no time limit, however the car park is locked at 5pm every night. Commence the walk by taking the path opposite the entrance to the car park, heading towards the woodland.

2. There are many different paths you can take through the woodland depending on how direct you want the walk to be. Whichever path you choose to take, head through the woodland until you reach the sign for Devil's Dyke. Follow the path up to Devil's Dyke which will bring you out at the car park.

3. The Bignor radio masts can be seen to the left of the car park. Take the path to the right, heading through the car park and follow the path as it starts to head up the hill.

4. Continue up the hill, following the path straight on as it begins to descend on the other side.

6. Follow the path down which takes you towards a small farm on the left. Continue on the path which begins to ascend up the hill again until you reach the signpost shown to the right. Here, take the right-hand path, and continue down this narrower path, which will eventually bring you back out at the car park.
